I WILLIAM LEWIS, the earliest known of our ancestors, was a French Huguenot who found refuge in Ireland to escape religious persecution in France following the assassination of Henry IV, in 1610. His dates of birth, marriage, death, are unknown. He married

MARY McCOLLOUGH (or McCLELLAND). Dates and number of children unknown.

Their son,

II ANDREW LEWIS. Dates and places unknown. He married

MARY CALHOUN. Dates unknown. Mary's parents also were French Huguenots who fled to Ireland.

Their 3 known children:

A) General Robert Lewis, born possibly in Donegal, Ireland; came with his brother JOHN to America in the early 1730's. Robert had a son John whose son John married Frances Fielding. Their son was the Fielding Lewis who married Betty Washington.

B) Samuel Lewis. No dates known; born possibly in Donegal, Ireland; was educated in Ireland and Scotland; went to Wales, then to Portugal. Possibly some of his descendants came to America.

C) "COLONEL" JOHN LEWIS, born 1678, Donegal, Ireland. (See later)

III JOHN LEWIS, born 1678, Donegal, in Donegal County, Ireland; died February 1, 1762, in Staunton, Virginia (then Orange County). Was educated in Ireland and Scotland. Married in 1715 or 1716, in Ireland or Scotland, MARGARET LYNN, dates unknown; daughter of Laird Lynn, Scottish Chieftain of Loch Lynn, Scotland.

In Ireland, John Lewis had acquired a good deal of property and then leased an estate from an Irish Lord. Some controversy arose and he killed the Irish Lord in a duel. He was exonerated but decided to come to America. He came about 1730 to America, stopping in Pennsylvania. In 1732 went to Orange County, Virginia (now Augusta County) and were among the earliest settlers there.. John's wife and children came three years after his arrival in this country. He was past 50 years of age when he emigrated.

(The first passage of the Blue Ridge Mountains into the Valley of Virginia was made by Governor Spotswood's expedition with about 50 men in 1716. The first permanent settlement by white people in that part of Virginia was made by a colony of Germans from Pennsylvania in 1726.)

About the year 1736, John Lewis, his brother Robert Lewis, and other natives of Ireland, established homes in the section around the present Staunton, Virginia. All of that part of Virginia was then called Orange County. In 1738, Orange County was divided into Frederick and Augusta Counties, but the business of the settlers was transacted at Orange Court House until 1745, when a court was organized in Augusta County. The early German settlers had established a Lutheran Church and the Scotch-Irish settlers established a Presbyterian Church.

John Lewis was soon called COLONEL LEWIS because of his integrity and strong leadership in the community. He was described as tall, muscular, and the best backwoodsman of his day. The Lewises were educated, refined people.

LEWIS Family

Many years ago, this epitaph was copied from his tomb on his farm near Staunton, Virginia:

Here lies the remains of
JOHN LEWIS,
who slew the Irish lord, settled Augusta County,
Located the town of Staunton,
And furnished five sons to fight the battles of the AMERICAN REVOLUTION.
He was the son of Andrew Lewis, Esq., and Mary Calhoun,
and was born in Donegal Co., Ireland, 1678,
and died in Virginia Feb. 1st, 1762, age 84.
He was a brave man, a true patriot and a firm friend of liberty throughout the world.

The 7 children of John Lewis and Margaret Lynn Lewis:

A) Samuel Lewis, born 1716, Donegal, Ireland; died unmarried, prior to his father's death, February 1, 1762 (not mentioned in his will).
